

KIDS MATTER HERE

Good Stuff About Our Grantees

Art Instruction Opportunity for Middle School Students

The College for Creative Studies through its Community Arts Partnerships division is entering the third year of its Detroit Neighborhood Arts Workshops, which provides middle school artists with free Saturday art classes and preparation for some of metro Detroit's finest high school arts programs.

If you are in the 6th to 8th grade and have a serious interest in the visual arts – painting, drawing, sculpture or graphic design – and a strong commitment and dedication, your opportunity has come.

Winter/Spring classes begin with a Family Orientation, which is being held Saturday, January 13, and is free to low-income students from Detroit. ♦ This will be the last orientation until summer, so it's important that you don't miss out.

For more information and to enroll, please call 313.664.7821

Detroit Neighborhood Arts Workshops is a small, long-term program with a total of about 60 students. ♦ There are current openings for 5 - 15 positions, so those who are interested should be very serious about exploring arts as a possible career path.

COLLEGE for Creative STUDIES

The Skillman
FOUNDATION

Created in 1960, The Skillman Foundation helps children in metropolitan Detroit by improving their homes, schools, and neighborhoods. Read this page every week for important news about Skillman Foundation grantees and their work.

CONTACT/INFO: www.skillman.org
mailbox@skillman.org
100 Talon Centre Drive, Suite 100
Detroit, MI 48207
313.393.1185