The Arts are Coming! To Osborn and Brightmoor Neighborhoods

Exploring and being trained in art forms can be a powerful vehicle for learning a broad range of knowledge and transferable skills for today's youth. ♦ Research has found evidence that arts education can indeed contribute significantly to young people's cognitive and social development.

If you happen to be a young person – or know of one – who lives in either the Osborn or Brightmoor community, and have a strong interest in the arts, these opportunities are for you: The College for Creative Studies (CCS), Mosaic Youth Theatre, African Dance Works, InsideOut Literary Arts Project, and Public Art Works (PAWZ) are bringing the arts to Detroit's neighborhood youth!

After-school arts for elementary and middle school students: Matrix Center Osborn neighborhood: Mon. - Fri., 4 p.m. - 7 p.m. with Our Children Count.

- Mondays - African dance and drumming (African Dance Works)
- Tuesday & Thursday - Theater workshops (Mosaic Youth Theatre)
- Wednesday & Friday - Fine arts, design and crafts (College for Creative Studies)

• After-school arts for high school students also at Matrix:

- Wednesday - 4:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m. - Citywide Poets (InsideOut Literary Arts program)

• Matrix is located at 13560 E. McNichols. ♦ Call the Matrix Connecting Families program at 313.526.4001, ext 10 for information on all programs.

• After-school arts for elementary and middle school students: Leland Baptist Church

- Brightmoor neighborhood: Tuesday & Thursday, 4:30 p.m. - 6:30 p.m.

• A partnership with Leland's Rites of Passage Experience (ROPE) program. ♦ ROPE provides a variety of activities Monday-Thursday, including homework help, entrepreneurship, dance, puppetry and basketball. ♦ Leland Baptist Church is located at 22420 Fenkell. Call Leland's ROPE program at 313.538.7077 or 7078.

• Saturday arts for middle school students: Osborn and Brightmoor Detroit Neighborhood Arts Workshops, Intermediate and Advanced classes. ♦ This long-term art/youth development

• program prepares middle school students with a serious interest in the arts and strong family support to apply to Detroit's quality high school art programs by preparing your own personal art portfolio.

• Locations:
